“My Heart trembles with anticipation at the thought of a long Treasured Dream come true.

My Heart skips a beat at the Heart felt wish so sound so True.
I joyfully await the Soul to Embrace the unknown unfolding, unfolding of what has laid deeply for sacred time.

I courageously take those devoted faithful steps, Embracing what once was Embarked from afar.

A path of Depth of Majestic Nature I’m called to accept wholeheartedly.”

“I have only words of wisdom to proclaim, and I ask all who wish to be heard, to Express their True Divinity, their Truth.”

"To you still searching, to you still following, to you focused on leading.....

Bring back Authenticity. Bring back Honour. Bring back Truth. Bring back Pure Love. Bring back True Living. Let the Profound Essence of Divine Light Shine. It is there. It is within you. Delve deep within and bring it out. Be not what others think you are. Be not to fit in. Be not what is taught to you to be. Be not what is forced upon you to become. Be you. Be the True You. The True Essence of You. We need YOUR True Uniqueness. Your Unique Light. Simply Be True to You and the World Lights up More. We need you to come back home to yourselves. We need the garden flourishing with full blooms, glorious flowers again. You are the flowers. You are the Stars that shine at night. You are the Sun that shines so bright. We need your harmonizing joy, your Beauty-Full laughter and your Special creativity. We want that Pure Love of YOU. That is what leading and following is all about. It is being one with one another. Equals. No one better than the other. No one group needing to dominate or be in power over another. No dogma. Just is. Simply Unique."

“Man who searches for the Throne,
discovers Sovereign.
THRIVES through BENEVOLENCE.”

“How can one describe the truth of life when one feels it to the core of their soul?”

How can one feel something so deeply and try to describe it in words that are so very lame and ambiguous that one can only do their best?

How can something so pure and elegant be defined in limited words other than those that are taught to us?

I can only describe it to the best of my ability that I know how.

I can only represent it in forms of visual representation and songs, in music and in the expression of creative art.”
